

Fund Objective

To achieve long term capital appreciation. There will be no limitations on the relative exposure of the portfolio to any asset class or geographical region, but the portfolio will typically have significant exposure to foreign equity and property securities.

Fund Universe

In order to achieve its objective, the investments normally to be included in the portfolio will comprise a combination of securities, exchange securities, stock including loan stock, financially sound listed property investments and participatory interests in portfolios of collective investment schemes in property shares and foreign collective investment schemes, assets in liquid form and any other securities which are considered consistent with the portfolio’s primary objective and that the Act or the Authority may from time to time allow, all to be acquired at fair market value.

Manager Commentary

Fund commentary

The fund delivered a modest return of 0.32% in February, underperforming the JSE Top40, which gained 0.96%, but outperforming the benchmark’s decline of 0.15%. The fund’s allocation remains focused on local debt and low-volatility, high-predictability assets, which contributed to stability amid market fluctuations.

South African bonds were a key contributor, returning 0.7%, while local equities also provided positive performance. However, the fund’s conservative positioning resulted in muted gains relative to riskier equity-heavy portfolios.

The outlook remains cautious as global economic uncertainty persists. The fund will continue to emphasize stable, income-generating assets while selectively identifying opportunities in local and global markets.

Market commentary

Global Market Overview February was a challenging month for global equity markets, with persistent macroeconomic headwinds driving risk-off sentiment. The S&P 500 declined by 1.46%, while the MSCI World Index fell by a more pronounced 2.65%, reflecting broad-based weakness across developed markets. Investor concerns over inflationary pressures, central bank policy uncertainty, and geopolitical risks contributed to market volatility and a shift towards safer assets.

Fixed Income Performance In contrast to equities, fixed income markets saw mixed performance. The iShares 20+ Year Treasury Bond ETF surged 4.88%, benefiting from a decline in long-term yields as investors sought safe-haven assets amid market turbulence. South African bonds demonstrated stability, with the S&P South Africa Sovereign Bond 1+ Year Index posting a marginal gain of 0.01%. This highlights continued demand for income-generating assets in a climate of heightened uncertainty.

IP Management Company is a member of ASISA. A statement of changes in the composition of the portfolio during the reporting period is available on request. The performance is calculated for the portfolio. The individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax.

The portfolio may include foreign investments and the following additional risks may apply: liquidity constraints when selling foreign investments and risk of non-settlement of trades; macroeconomic and political risks associated with the country in which the investment is made; risk of loss on foreign exchange transactions and investment valuation due to fluctuating exchange rates; risk of foreign tax being applicable; potential limitations on availability of market information which could affect the valuation and liquidity of an investment. All of these risks could affect the valuation of an investment in the fund.

The total expense ratio (TER) was incurred as expenses relating to the administration of the financial product. Transaction costs (TC) relate to the buying and selling of the assets underlying the financial product. Total Investment Charge (TIC) is the value of the financial product incurred as costs relating to the investment of the financial product. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TER's. Transaction Costs are a necessary cost in administering the financial product and impacts the financial product returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by may other factors over time such as market returns, the type of financial product, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.
